FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, DECEMBER 11, 1886.

Rev. W. H. Hampton will preach at St. John's in the Wilderness to-morrow, Sunday, afternoon at 3 o'clock. All are most cordially invited.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will furnish a supper, of substantial and delicacies, next Thursday night, Dec. 16th, in their new Chapel adjoining the parsonage.

The Woman's Exchange of the Methodist Church will open, as usual, this morning, in the counting-room of the Yeoman office. Those wishing delicacies should call and purchase from these ladies. If what you want is not on hand, leave your orders and they will be filled.

Col. D. C. Crutcher, of the White Hall, is the happy father of a fresh baby, and its a girl, also same—Corinne Belle, Snake, Colonel.

The Chautauqua Circle will meet at 7 o'clock Monday evening at the residence of Mr. Charles E. Haff, on Main street. A full attendance of the members is desired.

Mr. Lucien Waggener, Jr., of this city has been elected class poet by his class at Princeton College, New Jersey. The duties of the position require that he shall prepare and read an original poem on Class Day during the commencement exercises next June.

Madame Rumor has it that three of the teachers at the Institute for Feeble-minded Children will be married in the near future. It seems that the City School has lost its grip on the matrimonial market, and the Institute is now the place for marriageable young ladies to seek positions.

The young people composing the "Willing Workers," of the Methodist congregation, gave their pastor, Rev. G. C. Kelly, a surprise pound party on Tuesday evening last. It was very much enjoyed by all those present, and the guests went away conscious of the fact that they had a good time themselves and had replenished their pastor's larder. These occasions are a good way of bringing the members of the church together in a much-needed social manner.

Mr. Sol. Harris, the dry goods and clothing merchant, made an assignment Tuesday morning for the benefit of his creditors. Since his store was burned 1885, on the 5th of August, when he lost heavily, Mr. Harris has been operating upon small capital, and was doing a great deal of business, but some of his creditors became clamorous for what he owed them and attached his stock on Monday afternoon, which caused him to assign. Affairs will be so arranged that Mrs. Harris will be able to reopen her millinery and fancy goods establishment in a few days.

Judge Samuel R. Smith, of the E. H. Taylor, Jr., Co., and Col. Richard Morris, of Spring Hill, went down to Graves county on a hunting trip last week. We hope to hear good report of them ere they return.

Mr. E. W. Ihnes, Reporter to the Court of Appeals and Editor of the Law Reporter, has moved his office to the Baltzell building, on Main street, in the room lately occupied by W. B. Rodman, Esq.

E. Pawer has Acme, Eureka, New York Club, Sherley and Barney & Berry skates. Prices from 50 cents per pair up.

James B. Hawkins, Esq., has returned from his hunt down in Arkansas. He was only tolerably successful.

See the ten cent counter at Weltzel Bros. 2t.

If out of sorts with headache, stomach disorder, torpid liver, pain in back or side, constipation, &c., neglect not the "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." It gives relief. A few doses restore you to your health and vigor. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and other respiratory diseases, and the cure of those dangerous maladies, if it should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a most valuable remedy. In the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incident to the winter months, its attitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, cause serious trouble, and it is well to have a previous time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, and once the specified and most certain to cure.

If you want a good juicy steak, sweet ham, bacon or lard go to Mack Salvage store, No. 228 Main street, opposite Dr. Duvall's residence. 4t-4t.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Our Bloomington correspondent was mistaken last week in saying that Mr. Albert Johnson and Miss Eva Chambers were married in Jeffersonville, Indiana. They eloped from this country with that intention, but on arriving in Louisville the young lady was met at the depot by her aunt, who took her home with her and prevented the wedding.

Ulcerated Leg.

About August 1st, 1885, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me very much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally. Under treatment of a physician, the disease gradually extended on my left leg. There it seemed to concentrate, and two-thirds of the limb from the knee to the ankle soon became a solid running sore that discharged bloody matter continually. I was treated by many physicians at various times, but obtained no permanent relief. On the advice of a physician at this place, I finally commenced using Swift's Specific Liniment. After using it for a few days, the sores have all healed except one and that is where the shrivelled leather rubs when I am riding, and will soon be gone.

ROUNDABOUT -Supplement

FRANKFORT, KY., DECEMBER 11, 1886.

Death of Jas. G. Dudley.

Mr. Jas. G. Dudley died Wednesday afternoon, at his residence on Wapping street, after an illness of several months duration, aged about 66 years. The deceased was the eldest son of the late Gen. Ambrose W. Dudley, was for a number of years a leading lumber merchant in this city, and had served as Councilman and member of the School Board. In early life he went to California, but returned and settled in Louisville, from whence he removed to Chicago. In 1866 he returned to this city and engaged with his brother, I. T. Dudley, in the lumber business, in which business he remained until some two years ago, when he sold out and removed to Louisville. His business ventures not proving successful in that city, he returned to his old home early in October, broken in health, and has nearly ever since been confined to bed, gradually growing worse until death came to relieve him from suffering.

His funeral took place Friday morning, at 10 o'clock, from his late residence, and was largely attended. He leaves a wife and five children—three sons and two daughters—who have the warmest sympathy of a large circle of friends.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Ellen Ford, widow of the late Dan. Ford and mother of Mr. Con. McCarty, had the misfortune to fall, as she was going into the Cemetery, on Thursday evening last, and fractured her right leg in two places near the hip. The fracture was reduced and she is doing as well as could be expected considering her age.

Mr. George Prewitt, who for the past fifteen years has been driving a freight wagon between this city and Lawrenceburg, was seriously injured about the head, on Thursday night of last week, by a fall from his wagon, when near Alton. His injuries are such that he will be laid up for some time.

Will receive next Monday another hogshead of open kettle New Orleans sugar, 20 pounds for $1.00.

J. HEENEY.

Major H. T. Stanton, of this city, has been appointed Commissioner for the allotment of Indian lands by the Secretary of the Interior. The position has a salary of ten dollars per day attached, and expenses. He left Thursday night for Washington to take the oath of office and receive his instructions.

If you wish, to purchase china, glassware and fancy goods, for Christmas, cheaper than ever before, call on W. T. Reading, the Broadway street merchant. He has these articles in great variety and at unusually low prices. tf.

The work on the South Frankfort sewer will be completed next week, no bad weather preventing. The brick-work has been completed as far on Cross street as the residence of Dr. W. H. Hall, and the work of excavating is being pushed through the Main street fill at the intersection of Cross.

J. Heeney advertises no bumming, he sells just as he advertises. Try him.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Ed. Marshall gave a pound party on Thursday evening, which was quite an enjoyable affair.

Largest stock of candy in the city, stick and mixed candy 10 cents a pound, at Waggoner's, the Broadway street grocer.

Among the Colored People.

The Commissioners of the State Normal School for colored persons met on last Wednesday, Dec. 8th, to decide upon the location of said school, but Judge Smirall, of Louisville, one of the Commissioners, being absent, no important business was transacted. The location of the school was laid over for a future date.

Representatives of Lexington, Hopkinsville, Danville and Frankfort were present, to enter the fight for its location, but were disappointed. It is hoped that Frankfort will be the winner as it will be of much advantage to the school to be at the Capital of the State, near the Legislature.

Harry Holmes, one of the old and respected citizens of Frankfort, who was honest in his dealings, departed this life on Tuesday, Dec. 2d, at the age of 72 years. He leaves three sons, two daughters, and a host of friends to mourn his loss. His funeral was conducted by Revs. Henry Samuels and Mitchell at the Independent Baptist Church.

Annie Grimes, who was shot by Thos. Parker on Nov. 24th, is still alive, but her physician says there is no hope of her recovery.

Rice 5 cents a pound, prunes 5 cents a pound, best family flour $2.00 per 100 pounds, bacon and lard 8½ cents a pound, at Waggoner's, on Broadway.

The new sidewalk in front of the Government Building was cracked by the frost during the recent cold spell.

The work on the interior of the Government Building is going ahead gradually. The radiators of the heating apparatus are being put in, the stairways going up, and preparations are being made for laying the floors.

Brother Barnes' little cabinet organ, which accompanied him on his European tour, and which Miss Marle used in this city a few weeks since, has at last succumbed to the baggage smashers, and has been permanently retired.

Dr. J. J. Wilson, for many years a resident of Belle Point, after an absence of five or six years has again returned to this city and located for the purpose of practising his profession. His card will be found in another column.

Personal.

Mr. Frank Bull, of Louisville, has been visiting his parents in this city.

Mr. Carlton Gray, of Louisville spent Sunday with his parents at the K. M. I.

Miss Lizzie Rodman has been on a visit to relatives in Jeffersonville, Ind.

The little infant daughter of Mr. J. W. Greenup is quite ill, with grave fears as to the result.

Mrs. Mollie Williamson and Master Clyde are visiting her mother, Mrs. Henry Komppuan, in Indianapolis, Indiana.
